Bitter Fight-Prejudics against Pensions.

The two Tillmans, governor and con-

We find the plan war against the sub-treasury scheme in works satisfactorily both to ourselves and patrons. We that state. They are backed by senator M. C. Butler. All three are on the stump attending Alliance pionics which are going on through the state. At nomination, delivered one of of his characteristic speeches. Among other things he said: "The third party which the Kansas jaw-hawkers sent down to Georgia to preach, and when they asked tions and conditions. When you ask them about it in South Carolina those Kansas jay hawkers, Sockless Jerry and The leading exponents in the CASH business, and Lead-ers in Low Prices, New Point, Holt Co., Mo. | Mr. Peffer and Willets and Ignatius Don ers in Low Prices, New Point, Holt Co., Mo. | nelly and Delameter and two or three others what do they say? Anything about the tant? No, but I'll tell you what they did ray. More pensions. Both parties and all parties demand more pensions. In old times when one people conquered another they put them to the sword. When they became more civilized they took the conquered into slavery, but the Yankee in his day and generation is wiser than all. He prefets to let his prisoners live, make them work and take away the fruits of their labor, and that is what the north is doing to day with the south. And it is what they will continue to do. I am sorry to have to tell you so, but I want to impress it upon you, to burn it fato your memories that no matter how plentiful money is, or ever may be, you cannot escape that annual drain of the pensions you have endured and will continue to endure. I am well acquainted with Polk, I know Macune well and I know Terrell well. I have met them and sought interviews with them. They are a sorry set. Polk, I believe, is a good man, but the demon of ambition whispers in his ear that he might be a presidential candidate of the third party. Hence he has gone over to the sub-treasury scheme and is hobnobbing with the third party. He is as potter's clay in the hands of Machiavelian Macune. He fasied at everything he undertook until he got a paper which another had made a success. Who is Macune? An ex-Reinto Texas where he found people half
